Now Accepting Applications from Grad-Students & Post-Docs

microMORPH workshops bring together small groups of graduate students, post-docs, and faculty with diverse interests and expertise to interact and discuss critical concepts, intellectual objectives, emerging technologies, and analytical approaches that have the potential to advance our understanding of the evolution of plant form.

8 grad-students or post-docs will be selected to attend, give presentations, and engage in discussion.

Travel & Lodging

Funding to offset major travel costs (plane tickets, ground transportation) for all participants will be available.

Lodging and meals will be provided for all participants.
