

SPRING 2015

History of Medicine Working Group

- 2/2 Ben Goossen (History)
"Mennonite Bodies and Racial Hygiene in the Third Reich"
- 2/9 Anouska Bhattacharyya (History of Science)
"Native Prints, Working Bodies: the Development of Early Fingerprinting in Late Nineteenth-Century India"
- 2/16 Margaret Czerwienski (Anthropology)
"The Value of Life Itself: DALYs, Global Capital, and the Moral Economy of 'Health as a Human Right'"
- 3/2 Workshop Highlighting Newly Opened Collections
with The Center for the History of Medicine and Warren Anatomical Museum, Countway Library of Medicine
- 3/9 Allan Brandt (History of Science & Department of Social Medicine)
"'The Fire Next Time': A Historian of Medicine Observes the Emergence of the Ebola Epidemic"
- 3/10 Theresa Smith (Harvard Library)
"Extravagance and Economy: Sixteenth-Century Anatomical Prints with Moveable Flaps"
- 3/23 Janet Browne (History of Science)
"The History of Charles Darwin's Diseases"
- 3/30 Mary Carpenter
"Margaret Mathewson's 'A Sketch of Eight Months a Patient in the Royal Infirmary of Edinburgh, A.D. 1877'"
- 4/6 Miriam Rich (History of Science)
"Monstrous Childbirth: Concepts of Race and Defective Reproduction in Nineteenth-Century U.S. Science and Law"
- 4/13 Frank Blibo (History of Science)
"Improvising Open-Heart Surgery in (In)dependent West Africa, 1964 to Recent Times"
- 4/27 Ángel Rodríguez (History of Science)
"Infectious Imperialism: Science, Syphilis, and Society in Central America"

Co-Sponsored with
Early Sciences Working Group
TUESDAY, 6-8 pm in SC469

Dinner is served at working group meetings. For catering purposes and to receive any pre-circulated materials, RSVP to mrich@fas.harvard.edu.

MONDAYS 6-8pm
Science Center 469
1 OXFORD ST., CAMBRIDGE MA

SPRING 2015

History of Medicine Working Group

- 2/2 Ben Goossen (History)
"Mennonite Bodies and Racial Hygiene in the Third Reich"
- 2/9 Anouska Bhattacharyya (History of Science)
"Native Prints, Working Bodies: the Development of Early Fingerprinting in Late Nineteenth-Century India"
- 2/16 Margaret Czerwienski (Anthropology)
"The Value of Life Itself: DALYs, Global Capital, and the Moral Economy of 'Health as a Human Right'"
- 3/2 Workshop Highlighting Newly Opened Collections
with The Center for the History of Medicine and Warren Anatomical Museum, Countway Library of Medicine
- 3/9 Allan Brandt (History of Science & Department of Social Medicine)
"'The Fire Next Time': A Historian of Medicine Observes the Emergence of the Ebola Epidemic"
- 3/10 Theresa Smith (Harvard Library)
"Extravagance and Economy: Sixteenth-Century Anatomical Prints with Moveable Flaps"
- 3/23 Janet Browne (History of Science)
"The History of Charles Darwin's Diseases"
- 3/30 Mary Carpenter
"Margaret Mathewson's 'A Sketch of Eight Months a Patient in the Royal Infirmary of Edinburgh, A.D. 1877'"
- 4/6 Miriam Rich (History of Science)
"Monstrous Childbirth: Concepts of Race and Defective Reproduction in Nineteenth-Century U.S. Science and Law"
- 4/13 Frank Blibo (History of Science)
"Improvising Open-Heart Surgery in (In)dependent West Africa, 1964 to Recent Times"
- 4/27 Ángel Rodríguez (History of Science)
"Infectious Imperialism: Science, Syphilis, and Society in Central America"

Co-Sponsored with
Early Sciences Working Group
TUESDAY, 6-8 pm in SC469

Dinner is served at working group meetings. For catering purposes and to receive any pre-circulated materials, RSVP to mrich@fas.harvard.edu.

MONDAYS 6-8pmScience Center 469

1 OXFORD ST., CAMBRIDGE MA

SPRING 2015

History of Medicine Working Group

- 2/2 Ben Goossen (History)
"Mennonite Bodies and Racial Hygiene in the Third Reich"
- 2/9 Anouska Bhattacharyya (History of Science)
"Native Prints, Working Bodies: the Development of Early Fingerprinting in Late Nineteenth-Century India"
- 2/16 Margaret Czerwienski (Anthropology)
"The Value of Life Itself: DALYs, Global Capital, and the Moral Economy of 'Health as a Human Right'"
- 3/2 Workshop Highlighting Newly Opened Collections with The Center for the History of Medicine and Warren Anatomical Museum, Countway Library of Medicine
- 3/9 Allan Brandt (History of Science & Department of Social Medicine)
"'The Fire Next Time': A Historian of Medicine Observes the Emergence of the Ebola Epidemic"
- 3/10 Theresa Smith (Harvard Library)
"Extravagance and Economy: Sixteenth-Century Anatomical Prints with Moveable Flaps"
- 3/23 Janet Browne (History of Science)
"The History of Charles Darwin's Diseases"
- 3/30 Mary Carpenter
"Margaret Mathewson's 'A Sketch of Eight Months a Patient in the Royal Infirmary of Edinburgh, A.D. 1877'"
- 4/6 Miriam Rich (History of Science)
"Monstrous Childbirth: Concepts of Race and Defective Reproduction in Nineteenth-Century U.S. Science and Law"
- 4/13 Frank Blibo (History of Science)
"Improvising Open-Heart Surgery in (In)dependent West Africa, 1964 to Recent Times"
- 4/27 Ángel Rodríguez (History of Science)
"Infectious Imperialism: Science, Syphilis, and Society in Central America"

Co-Sponsored with
Early Sciences Working Group
TUESDAY, 6-8 pm in SC469

Dinner is served at working group meetings. For catering purposes and to receive any pre-circulated materials, RSVP to mrich@fas.harvard.edu.

MONDAYS 6-8pm

Science Center 469
1 OXFORD ST., CAMBRIDGE MA

SPRING 2015

History of Medicine Working Group

- 2/2 Ben Goossen (History)
"Mennonite Bodies and Racial Hygiene in the Third Reich"
- 2/9 Anouska Bhattacharyya (History of Science)
"Native Prints, Working Bodies: the Development of Early Fingerprinting in Late Nineteenth-Century India"
- 2/16 Margaret Czerwienski (Anthropology)
"The Value of Life Itself: DALYs, Global Capital, and the Moral Economy of 'Health as a Human Right'"
- 3/2 Workshop Highlighting Newly Opened Collections
with The Center for the History of Medicine and Warren Anatomical Museum, Countway Library of Medicine
- 3/9 Allan Brandt (History of Science & Department of Social Medicine)
"'The Fire Next Time': A Historian of Medicine Observes the Emergence of the Ebola Epidemic"
- 3/10 Theresa Smith (Harvard Library)
"Extravagance and Economy: Sixteenth-Century Anatomical Prints with Moveable Flaps"
- 3/23 Janet Browne (History of Science)
"The History of Charles Darwin's Diseases"
- 3/30 Mary Carpenter
"Margaret Mathewson's 'A Sketch of Eight Months a Patient in the Royal Infirmary of Edinburgh, A.D. 1877'"
- 4/6 Miriam Rich (History of Science)
"Monstrous Childbirth: Concepts of Race and Defective Reproduction in Nineteenth-Century U.S. Science and Law"
- 4/13 Frank Blibo (History of Science)
"Improvising Open-Heart Surgery in (In)dependent West Africa, 1964 to Recent Times"
- 4/27 Ángel Rodríguez (History of Science)
"Infectious Imperialism: Science, Syphilis, and Society in Central America"

Co-Sponsored with
Early Sciences Working Group
TUESDAY, 6-8 pm in SC469

Dinner is served at working group meetings. For catering purposes and to receive any pre-circulated materials, RSVP to mrich@fas.harvard.edu.

MONDAYS 6-8pm

Science Center 469
1 OXFORD ST., CAMBRIDGE MA

SPRING 2015

History of Medicine Working Group

- 2/2 Ben Goossen (History)
"Mennonite Bodies and Racial Hygiene in the Third Reich"
- 2/9 Anouska Bhattacharyya (History of Science)
"Native Prints, Working Bodies: the Development of Early Fingerprinting in Late Nineteenth-Century India"
- 2/16 Margaret Czerwienski (Anthropology)
"The Value of Life Itself: DALYs, Global Capital, and the Moral Economy of 'Health as a Human Right'"
- 3/2 Workshop Highlighting Newly Opened Collections
with The Center for the History of Medicine and Warren Anatomical Museum, Countway Library of Medicine
- 3/9 Allan Brandt (History of Science & Department of Social Medicine)
"'The Fire Next Time': A Historian of Medicine Observes the Emergence of the Ebola Epidemic"
- 3/10 Theresa Smith (Harvard Library)
"Extravagance and Economy: Sixteenth-Century Anatomical Prints with Moveable Flaps"
- 3/23 Janet Browne (History of Science)
"The History of Charles Darwin's Diseases"
- 3/30 Mary Carpenter
"Margaret Mathewson's 'A Sketch of Eight Months a Patient in the Royal Infirmary of Edinburgh, A.D. 1877'"
- 4/6 Miriam Rich (History of Science)
"Monstrous Childbirth: Concepts of Race and Defective Reproduction in Nineteenth-Century U.S. Science and Law"
- 4/13 Frank Blibo (History of Science)
"Improvising Open-Heart Surgery in (In)dependent West Africa, 1964 to Recent Times"
- 4/27 Ángel Rodríguez (History of Science)
"Infectious Imperialism: Science, Syphilis, and Society in Central America"

Dinner is served at working group meetings. For catering purposes and to receive any pre-circulated materials, RSVP to mrich@fas.harvard.edu.

Co-Sponsored with
Early Sciences Working Group
TUESDAY, 6-8 pm in SC469

MONDAYS 6-8pm

Science Center 469
1 OXFORD ST., CAMBRIDGE MA